BuddyCamp Brighton is the first BuddyPress conference outside of North America and Canada, and the sixth worldwide. We are seeking sponsors to help make this a lively, enjoyable, and memorable event!

About

BuddyPress helps you run any kind of social network on your WordPress, with member profiles, activity streams, user groups, messaging, and more. BuddyPress is an official sister project of WordPress.

Now 8 years old, the idea behind BuddyPress was to see what would happen to the web if it was as easy for anyone to create a social network as it is to create a blog.

Venue

Located only an hour south of London, Brighton is a famous seaside resort and charming bohemian city with a fair share of cultural amenities, including an impressive music and arts scene. It's also become a burgeoning tech hub.

The conference will be held at Clearleft's events space, 68 Middle Street.

Located 50 metres from Brighton beach, 10 minutes walk from the train station, and surrounded by great restaurants, bars, and shops, BuddyCamp Brighton will be in the centre of all Brighton has to offer.

Organising Team

Tammie Lister

Tammie Lister is a long-time BuddyPress contributor, and theme wrangler at Automattic.

When not themeing, she likes to spend time with her husband and two dogs around the beach they live by. She likes to balance the time spent online with offline crafts, yoga and photography.

Paul Gibbs

Paul is a BuddyPress Lead Developer, and lives in West Sussex.

Brought up on a diet of digestive biscuits, crumpets, and tea, Paul likes spending his spare time building WordPress plugins, including BuddyPress. Away from the screen, he enjoys reading, photography, and travel.
